Verse of the Week
Whatever you do, work heartily, as for the Lord and not for men, knowing that from the Lord you will receive the inheritance as your reward. You are serving the Lord Christ.
Colossians 3:23-24

Prayer Corner
~Praise God for His mercy and grace, that no matter what our past, He makes us clean.
~Praise God that He is good! for He sent His only son to die for our sins!
~Praise God that you are loved by a Father in heaven, who adores every part of you.
~Pray for our lost family and friends to they find Jesus and are whole with Him.

KidsMatter Corner
A lot of mums and dads struggle with finding the right balance when it comes to praising their kids. How much is too much? How much is too little? Is quantity that important, or is it the quality of praise that really matters?
While there’s no secret formula, experts say understanding the when, where, and how of praising is an important tool in raising confident kids with a healthy sense of self-esteem.
We have to make a effort to genuinely praise and make positive ‘deposits’ so that when we ‘withdraw’ with pulling them up on disobedience etc. they respond with more enthusiasm.
Let’s make extra effort this week to deposit into each other’s lives!

LEN WE FORGET!

Memorials have been held across Australia today to mark the 50th Anniversary of the Vietnam War battle of Long Tan, the deadliest of Australia’s involvement in the Vietnam conflict. The Battle of Long Tan in a rubber plantation in South Vietnam in 1966 could have been an Australian military disaster, but is instead remembered as a decisive victory. The Australian soldiers were outnumbered 20 to 1 and despite their success against overwhelming odds, the Battle of Long Tan was still the costliest battle for Australia during the entire Vietnam War. Two hundred and forty-five Vietnamese dead were found on the battlefield, with captured documents later suggesting hundreds more had been killed or wounded. Eighteen Australians were killed - 17 from D Company and one from the 1st Armoured Personnel Carrier Squadron. Twenty-one were wounded. It is through past battles like these that we now experience the freedoms that we so often take for granted. Take a moment today to remember those who have fallen and thank God every day for our nation’s Defence Forces.

Getting kids in the kitchen
“As a child public health researcher, Associate Professor Lisa Gibbs was asked to lead a team from University of Melbourne and Deakin University to evaluate the work of the Stephanie Alexander Foundation’s ‘Kitchen Garden Program’. Here, Associate Professor Gibbs uncovers the evidence and success stories behind the program and gives her advice on how parents can apply the principles of the program at home.”
