WHO IS YOUR GOD?

In assembly this week we visited Shadrach, Meshach and Abednego again. These young men give us the names of our three school teams. They were also good friends of Daniel and they all had amazing adventures. In chapter three, Daniel wasn't around and our three fellows came up against King Nebucanezzar, a powerful despot, who made a huge golden statue and overruled all the officials in his realm to bow down to it. This was a no-no for the young Hebrew men who were well aware of the Ten Commandments. The penalty for not bowing down was death in the burning Fiery Furnace! I recommend that you read about it yourself in Daniel chapter 3. But I want to draw your attention to part of what they said to King Nebucanezzar. They used the phrase, "our God whom we serve..." They were quite clear about their God. He was the one they followed, obeyed and worshipped. I thought about this, who is my God? Who is your God? Do I trust Him like Shadrach, Meshach and Abednego did? Do you?
